

XXXVI OSI SYMPOSIUM

on

Frontiers in Optics and Photonics (FOP11)

INDIAN INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY DELHI

New Delhi, December 3-5, 2011

FIRST CALL FOR PAPERS

FOP11 is thirty-sixth in the series of annual symposia of the Optical Society of India. This symposium is being organized by the Indian Institute of Technology Delhi, which has significantly contributed to the growth of the field of optics and photonics in several ways since its inception in 1961. This symposium has returned to IIT Delhi after a gap of over 30 years, especially to mark the Golden Jubilee of the Institute. The symposium will provide a forum for interaction and exchange of ideas among scientists, engineers, researchers, students, who are actively engaged in the area of Optics & Photonics. The conference will be held at the campus of the Institute and will also include a technical exhibition in which manufacturers, suppliers and service providers will be able to showcase their products and services. -Short courses may be offered on December 2; details would be available in subsequent announcements.

SCOPE OF THE CONFERENCE

The conference will offer a large number of invited talks both from India and abroad, contributed papers and poster presentations. Researchers are welcome to submit contributory papers covering their original research on the topics listed below. However, papers on any area related to Optics & Photonics may also be submitted. The conference will broadly cover the following topics:

- Integrated Optic Circuits and Devices (IOC)
- Fiber Optic Devices, Sensors and Instrumentation (FIB)
- Optoelectronic Devices (OED)
- Optical System Design (DES)
- Optical Data Storage & Display Devices (STR)
